

The Daily Courant.

Saturday, October 2. 1703

From the Brussels Gazette, dated Sept. 25.

Madrid, September 3.

WE have receiv'd Advice by an Express, that the English and Dutch Fleet bound up the Mediterranean, having been oblig'd to lye at Anchor at Cape Trafalgar on the Coast of Barbary, by a contrary Wind that hindred their passing the Straits, the English Admiral detach'd 4 of his Chaloups with Soldiers in them to endeavour to land at the Mole of Gibraltar, from whence they were repuls'd by 2 Troops of Horse that were arriv'd there some days before from Cadix, and oblig'd to rejoin their Fleet: That on the 24th of August the Wind proving fair, they weigh'd and stood in to the Straits; that on the 25th the whole Fleet was seen off Malaga, to which Port the English Admiral sent a Boat with a White Flag, to offer if there were any English or Dutch Prisoners there, to exchange them for Spaniards which had been taken in some Fishing and other Vessels, but the Governour returning Answer that he had not one Prisoner English or Dutch, the Admiral caus'd 53 Spaniards to be set ashore the next day, and then pursued his Voyage. The King of Morocco sent several Vessels from Tangier with Refreshments to this Fleet while it lay at Cape Trafalgar. Advice being sent to Cadix that the Enemies had pass'd the Straits, the Gallies of France that were in that Harbour, set Sail for Marseilles pursuant to their Orders, but on the 27th they were oblig'd by a contrary Wind to put into that Port again.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Oct. 4.

Philippine, Sept. 28. 'Tis confirm'd that all the Spanish Troops in the Netherlands are to go to Spain; and 'tis further advis'd, that the French Intendant Monsieur Bagnols will be made Commandant General in the room of the Marquess de Bedmar, and that the old Spanish Ducatoons and Paracoons will be call'd in to be coin'd into new Species, which are to have the Arms of Spain on one side, and the Arms of France on the other.

Dublin, Sept. 25. On Tuesday last the Parliament met here, when his Grace the Duke of Ormond Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governour of Ireland, made a Speech to Both Houses of Parliament as followeth.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE Queen could not more effectually manifest Her Tender Concern for you, than by calling you at this time to meet in Parliament, whereby you have an Opportunity of Passing those Gracious Bills already sent over, and of making such other Laws as may yet be wanting for the Establishment of the Protestant Religion, and the Welfare of the Kingdom.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

It is to be wish'd that you were in a Condition to provide for such Fortifications as would much conduce to the Safety of the Kingdom, and particularly at Limerick; and for building Barracks in this City, and where else they are wanting. But that which Her Majesty expects at this time, is only that the Publick Debts be discharged, and the Revenue made equal to the Expence of the Government, which is much increased by the Charge of the Barracks; and they are found so useful, and so great an Ease to the Country, that they ought not to be neglected.

I have order'd all the Accompts to be laid before you, by which you will perceive that the Government has expended a very considerable Sum towards the Building of Barracks more than was given by the Parliament for that purpose: And when you are fully inform'd of Particulars, I have no doubt but you will give as great Testimonies of Respect and Affection to Her Majesty, as have been given to any of Her Royal Predecessors.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Since the Queen has done me the Honour to place me in this Station, as my Duty and Gratitude oblige me to serve Her Majesty with the utmost Diligence and Fidelity, so my Inclination and Interest, and the Examples of my Ancestors, are indispensable Obligations upon me, to improve every Opportunity the most I can to the Advantage and Prosperity of this My Native Country.

I have all the Assurances that can be given, that the Regiments in the West-Indies, on the Establishment, shall soon return; and I will use my utmost Endeavours that the whole Revenue may be expended in this Kingdom.

And since I can have no other Design than what you all aim at, the Queen's Service, and the Good of our Country, I shall only recommend to you, that We may Unite and Agree in the same Measures to compass them, with that Wisdom and Temper which Matters of such Importance require.

Allen Brodwick Esq; Her Majesty's Solicitor General, was chosen Speaker of the Commons.

Plymouth, Sept. 28. This Evening was seen off the Hills a Fleet to the Westward; but being at a great distance the number of Ships could not be told, tho' we suppose it to be the Fleet from Virginia under Convoy of the York and Falmouth Men of War.

Harwich, Sept. 30. Yesterday 60 Sail of laden Colliers pass'd by this Place for the River.

London, October 1. The Letters that came in yesterday from Ireland advise, that they are busie in Embarking Collonel Harvey's Regiment of Horse, and Collonel Brudenel's and the Lord Montjoy's Regiments of Foot, which are to serve in the Expedition to Portugal.

Legborne, Sept. 17. There are thirty odd Ships of War in the Road of Thoulon ready to sail; The Count de Thoulouse ears and sleeps aboard; and by the freshest Advices from thence we are inform'd, that as soon as the News came thither of Sir Cloudfly Shovel's having appear'd before Lisbon, Proclamation was was made for all the Officers and Seamen to repair immediately on board their respective Ships. We cannot learn what the Enemies Design is, but some People here are of opinion, that if the English and Dutch Fleet comes to this Coast, the French will slip away out of the Straits and visit Portugal.

There are Letters from Amsterdam of the Fifth of October which say, that they had Letters from Paris of the 27th of September which advise, that News was come thither from Genoa, that the English and Dutch Squadron commanded by Sir Cloudesly Shovel was seen off that Place.
